Kidnap-Killer Slain In Gunfight

Hostage Rescued Unharm

By Steve Marcus
SHADE GAP, Pa. (AP)—A mad kidnap-killer was shot to death today in a wild gunfight during his desperate attempt to break through a police cordon with his 17-year-old hostage, Peggy Ann Bradnick.

William Diller Hollenbaugh, 44, fell dying in a farmyard with a slug through his neck after a dash for freedom in the commandeered car of a deputy sheriff he had critically wounded.

The girl fled to the shelter of the farmhouse. She was not hurt.

Jack Conmy, press secretary to Gov. William W. Scranton, said the slug was fired from a shotgun by Larry Rebeck, 15, son of the farm owner. Hollenbaugh, who Wednesday killed a pursuing FBI agent, fired two shots at oncoming state troopers before he collapsed, bleeding heavily.

The final gunfight climaxed a massive manhunt in the Tuscarora Mountains 70 miles southwest of Harrisburg.

Hollenbaugh—once an inmate of an asylum for the criminally insane—snatched Peggy Ann on her way home from school last Wednesday.

A force of 250 state troopers which had surrounded Hollenbaugh's mountain hideout throughout the night began closing in at dawn. Deputy Sheriff Francis Sharp found the kidnaper and the girl in a cabin.

Conmy said Hollenbaugh shot Deputy Sharp in the stomach and, pushing the girl into the (Continued On Page Nine)

When Stafford and Cernan can make another stab at their rendezvous and space walk mission will depend on the precise cause of Tuesday's failure.

The results could affect not only the Gemini 9 date, but also several other Atlas-boosted space launches scheduled here and at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California in the next two months.

Also at stake is the future of the U.S. men in space program. But officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said they were confident that a quick rescheduling of Gemini 9—plus the launching of the three remaining Gemini flights at two-month intervals—would provide all the data necessary to proceed to the three-man Apollo moon project.

The Air Force, which is responsible for the Gemini launch vehicles, reported five hours after Tuesday's failure that one of the three engines in the Atlas booster had swiveled wildly to one side—while missilemen term a hardover—and sent the Atlas-Agena combination tumbling out of control.

The other two Atlas engines continued to burn, but the vehicle was diving back toward earth instead of into space. It plunged into the Atlantic Ocean about 180 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy, near Grand Bahama Island.

The failure was only the third in the last 52 launchings in which the Atlas has served as a booster.

Air Force Maj. Gen. Ben I. Funk, chairman of the Gemini Flight Safety Review Board, said the failure was "a serious setback" but that the program was "not in jeopardy."

He said the review board would report on the cause of the failure by June 1.

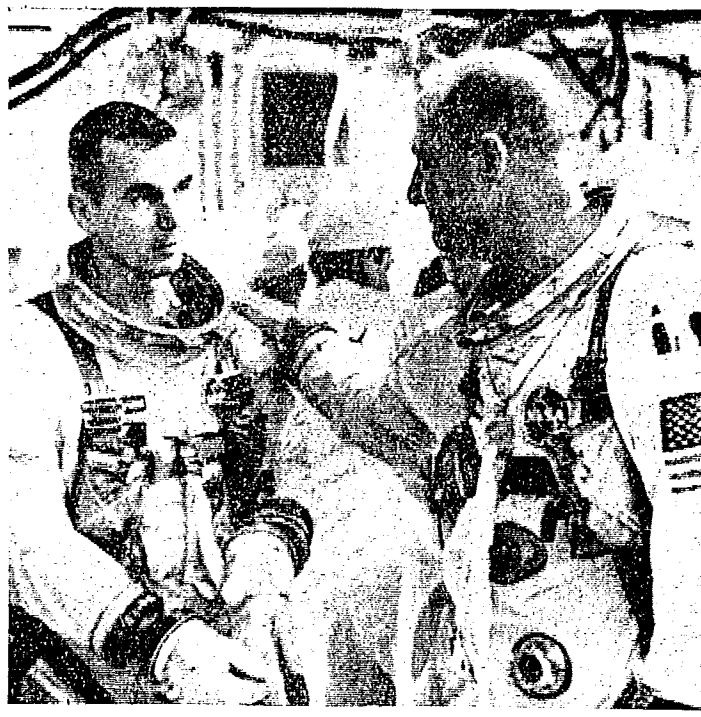

The review board is made up of representatives from the Air Force, NASA, and the Defense Department.

The review board's report will be the basis for a decision on whether to proceed with the Gemini 9 mission.

The review board also will recommend any changes that need to be made in the Gemini program.

Probe Costly Failure Of Gemini 9's Target

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—While an investigation board probed the multimillion-dollar failure of Gemini 9's Atlas-Agena target rocket, launch crews pushed ahead today in hopes of launching astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan in two or three weeks.

$700,000 Grant For Sparta Water Line OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Commerce Department approved today a $700,000 grant and loan for construction of an 11-mile water transmission line for Sparta, Ill.

Sparta officials said five industries using city water plan to expand their operations once they are assured of more water. The expansions will create 250 to 300 jobs.

The money is available from the department's Economic Development Administration. The EDA was created by the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965 to assist areas with lagging economies.

The funds are a $350,000 grant and a like amount in a long-term, low-interest loan.

The project provides for installation of a water transmission line to Sparta's reservoir on the Kaskaskia River. It is expected to take six months to complete.

ELGIN RETURNS

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Elgin National Watch Co. has returned its corporate and Elgin watch division headquarters to its original home in Elgin.

Headquarters was moved to New York in March 1964. The company has manufactured watches in Elgin for a century. It also has a plant in Elgin, S.C.

Underdog Congress Clawing Way Back Into Policy Making Role

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress, long the underdog in its conflict with the executive, is beginning to claw its way back into the field of policy making.

Not since the Korean War has there been such a continuous uproar on Capitol Hill about the country's international course.

No president in recent years, including Harry S. Truman, ever got so much legislative advice on so many issues as is being showered on President Johnson and his Cabinet lieutenants.

To veteran watchers, the lawmakers' actions and words far exceed the usual election year upsurge of independence. They reflect a fearful consensus that the world may be heading toward cataclysmic events.

This was demonstrated Tuesday when the Senate unanimously advised the President to

U.S. First A-Spy Harry Gold Freed

By LEE LINDER
LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Harry Gold, America's first convicted atomic spy, was freed today after 16 years in prison.

Gold, now 55, white haired and wearing glasses, was sentenced to 30 years for carrying nuclear secrets to Russian agents during and after World War II. He will finish the rest of his term on parole.

Heavy rain was falling as the thin-faced Gold walked through the gate of Lewisburg Penitentiary with his brother, Joseph, and his attorney.

Wind, Rain, Fog Plague Illinois, Other Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Severe thunderstorms broke across a broad belt in the Midwest and South during the night and early today, with storm warnings in effect for nine states.

Tornadoes struck small communities and rural areas in parts of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois but there were no reports of serious injuries or heavy property damage.

Violent wind and thunderstorms lashed across many parts of Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois. Severe storms also hit sections of Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

Small streams in Central and Southern Illinois flowed over their banks today with the help of heavy rainfall.

More than three inches of rain soaked Hillsboro in 24 hours causing mudslides that held traffic on Illinois 16 near Hillsboro and Witt to single-lane paces.

While highway crews worked to clear the mud, officials reported creeks in Montgomery and Macoupin counties were flowing into farmland.

A tributary of the Kaskaskia River flooded some basements in Vandalia. Two rural bridges near Brownstown were blocked by high water.

Rainfall amounts ranged from less than two inches in Southern Illinois to 4.15 inches at Pontiac, the Weather Bureau said.

Severe windstorms swept across central and Southern Illinois and some damage was reported at Murphysboro. Hail and 67-mile-an-hour winds hit Vandalia, 50 miles east of St. Louis.

In Chicago, thick fog blanketed Midway and O'Hare airports early today, but dissipated quickly without any delay of air traffic.

Suburbs south of the city were pelted by brief, early rains. Almost a quarter inch of rain fell in seven minutes at Hazelcrest.

At Du Page County Airport this morning visibility was down to one-eighth of a mile in the fog. At Joliet the visibility was three miles and at Chicago's Midway Airport one and one-half miles.

Hit Deadlock In Construction Workers Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—A complete deadlock has been reported in negotiations to end a strike of heavy equipment operators that has halted construction in 12 northeastern Illinois counties.

Federal mediators said Tuesday "considerable movement by both sides" is needed to keep the walkout of 4,500 workers from extending throughout the construction season.

No further meetings were scheduled by the federal mediators.

The strike against 450 contractors began April 11 in a dispute over work rules and wages. It has halted $1 billion of road work and about 85 percent of home construction.

The International Union of Operating Engineers has asked for wage and fringe benefits totaling $1.65 hourly over a four-year period. Management has offered $1.05 over three years. The workers have been averaging $4.30 an hour.

The counties affected are Cook, Du Page, De Kalb, Grundy, Kane, Kankakee, Kendall, Lake, La Salle, Livingston, McHenry and Will.

Violence Erupts In Los Angeles; Newsmen Injured

By DAVE SMITH
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two outbursts of violence by Negroes—one resulting in injuries to two newsmen—and scattered reports of gunshots kept South Los Angeles tense and police on the alert today.

Officers said the incidents Tuesday night followed a demonstration in front of a police station, where 500 Negroes gathered after a rally held in a nearby park to protest the fatal shooting of a Negro by a policeman.

Officers said two small bands of Negroes were responsible for the violence, which broke out shortly after the crowd dispersed from the 77th Street Precinct, the substation that patrols the Watts area of South Los Angeles.

Injured in one of the outbreaks were Karl Fleming, 38, Los Angeles bureau chief for Newsweek magazine, and a Newsweek reporter, David Moberg, 22. Police said both were knocked to the ground by Negroes wielding pieces of lumber.

Fleming was hospitalized. In the other outbreak, officers said a band of 25 Negroes smashed the window of a liquor store and escaped with several bottles of liquor and some food.

One man was arrested and 12 youths detained for questioning but then released, officers said. Police said Fleming and Moberg, accompanied by another Newsweek reporter, Phil Hager, apparently were on their way to the liquor store when attacked.

The three said they had gone into the area earlier to witness the rally protesting the death of Leonard Deadwyler, 25, a Negro shot by a police officer, May 7. Deadwyler was speaking his pregnant wife to a local hospital when stopped by the officer.

Deadwyler's widow, Barbara, 25, says the officer shot without questioning her husband. The officer, J. M. Bova, says his revolver discharged accidentally when he tried to grab Deadwyler's ignition keys and the car began to move.

Mrs. Deadwyler said they had been speeding because they thought the baby was coming prematurely. An inquest has been scheduled.

FACTIONS DIFFER — DA NANG, SOUTH VIET NAM: Buddhist monks of the Tinh Hoi Pagoda argue with Vietnamese Marine officer here Monday to deter him from sending his troops into the Pagoda's grounds. The city, seized Sunday by government Marines and paratroopers, has been virtually paralyzed by an anti-government strike.

Plastic Heart Patient OK

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A retired Navy man was "awake and doing well" today after becoming the second patient with a heart pump in three weeks to have a partial artificial heart implanted in his chest.

Walter L. McCans, 61, Woodville, Wash., received the device to assist his heart's pumping in an operation performed Tuesday by a cardiovascular team at Methodist Hospital.

A hospital statement said McCans was taken to surgery to have an aortic ball valve inserted in his heart. He was described as in "rather severe left ventricular heart failure" when he entered the operating room.

Afterward the hospital would say only that "The surgical operation was successful."

Its first statement on McCans' condition was issued more than four hours after the operation was completed.

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, internationally known heart surgeon, performed a historic similar operation last April 21 on Marcel L. DeRudder, 65, a former Illinois coal miner. DeRudder died April 26 without regaining consciousness.

Doctors said death was caused by a ruptured left lung, one of several complications following surgery.

DeBakey said the artificial heart was working normally when DeRudder died.

FIRE MARSHALS ELECT

CHICAGO (AP)—W. J. Cowhey of Springfield, the Illinois state fire marshal, was elected to the executive committee of the Fire Marshals Association of North America Tuesday.

Officials reported today U.S. forces are striking heavily at what may be the Viet Cong's greatest weakness—his stomach.

Since the year began, the officials said, American troops have captured more than 7,500 tons of rice and well over 400 tons of salt.

Both are basic foods which the Communists cannot ship from North Viet Nam, as they do their arms and other supplies, but must collect in South Viet Nam.

Authorities, assuming a Communist soldier eats about two pounds of rice a day, estimate that the 7,500 tons taken represented food for 125,000 men for two months.

This does not take account of other supplies destroyed by bombing and artillery fire.

There is no claim that the Viet Cong are starving, or approaching that point. But Communist prisoners have told interrogators of going hungry.

And officials noted that hunger can lead to weakened morale.

The disclosure that the Air Force has borrowed the 400,000 bombs from the Navy seemed to

Marines Control Bridge

Ky Opponents Boost Forces

By Robert Tuckman
SAIGON (AP)—Rebels shot down a U.S. spotter plane over Da Nang late today. U.S. Marines quietly took over a Da Nang River bridge disputed between rebel and government troops in that hotbed of northern dissidence.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's opponents poured 500 more anti-government infantrymen into the city. And 200 men from a detachment of rangers already based there switched to the rebel side. That boosted the rebel ranks to more than 1,000 men, against the 2,500 Vietnamese Marines and paratroopers Ky sent in Sunday.

Government forces, supported by two tanks, started to close in on one of Da Nang's three rebel-held pagodas. But they withdrew after Buddhist monks set fire to a wooden pyre they had erected there and threatened to burn themselves to death if the advance continued.

Ky had visited Da Nang briefly to rally support and swear in his new military commander for the five northern provinces making up the agitation-ridden 1st Corps area.

Of complaints from U.S. officials that he had not advised them in advance of the troop movement, Ky said in an interview that "the American government and the Vietnamese government are close, perhaps closer than ever before, but it does not mean we have to discuss everything."

U.S. Marines won control of the Da Nang River bridge by negotiations. Their commander, Gen. Lewis W. Walt, talked Vietnamese marines into letting the Americans take over the west end and others negotiated a withdrawal of rebel troops holding the east end.

SAFETY: First, Last and Always

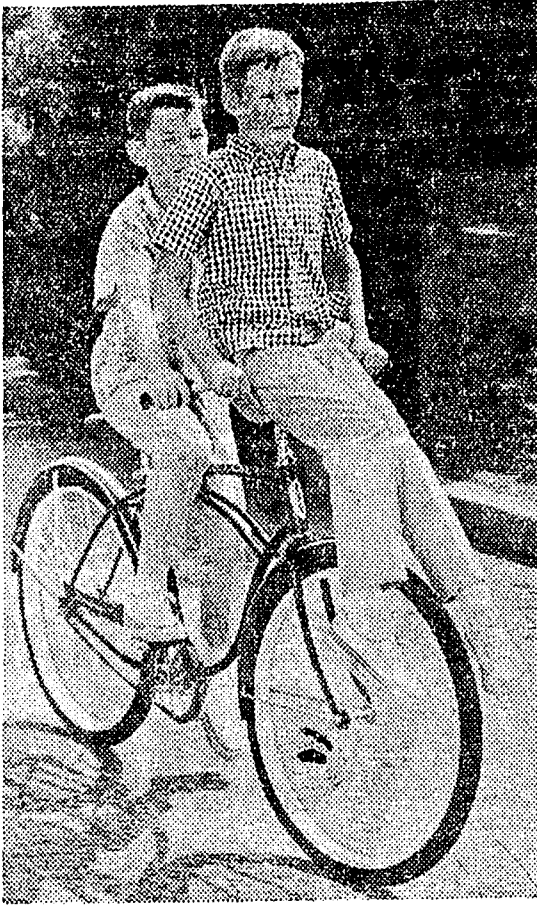

Properly used, a bicycle is a delight. Misused, it can be something else again — a cause for injury and even death. Of more than 30 million children wheeling along streets and highways during vacation months this year, some 30,000 are likely to be injured in accidents — 425 fatally, judging by statistics of past years. Most common accident cause is collision with motor vehicles, a survey by a brake manufacturer, Bendix Corp., shows. The best way to play safe is by observing basic dos and don'ts of sensible cycling.

DON'T —ride more than two abreast, Indian-file is best. Road-hogging is unsafe and discourteous.

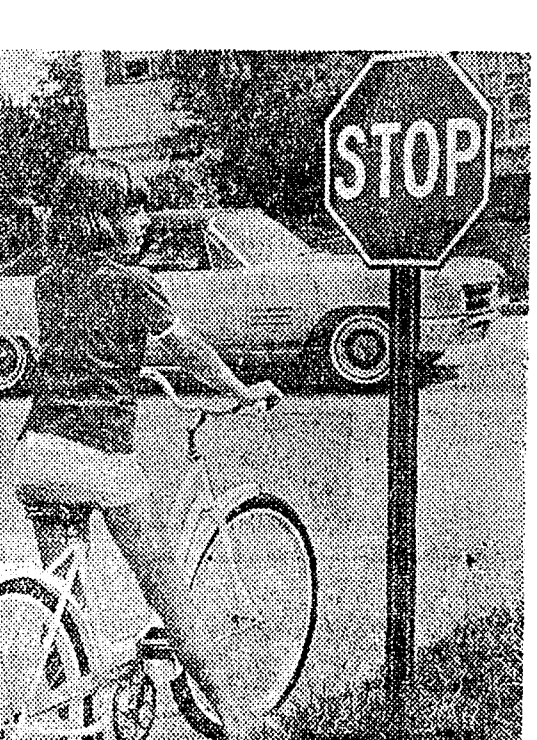

—dart without stopping out of driveways and between parked cars, or carry another person. "Piggybacking" makes balance and steering uncertain.

DO —know and obey traffic regulations, including conventional hand signals to let drivers know your intentions.

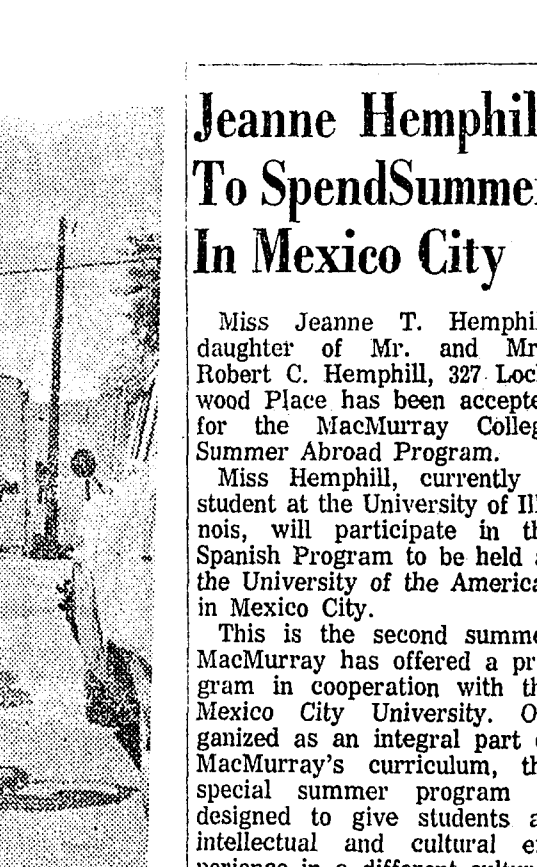

—stop at all stop signs and traffic signals. Ride only on the right side of the street and in a straight line.

—hitch rides on other vehicles. "Tailgating," one of the most dangerous of all bad bike habits, caused many of the 27,600 accidents last year resulting in serious injury and death.

—check out all a bike's mechanical parts regularly, at least every few weeks and particularly before long trips. Keep it clean and oil moving parts regularly.

Sixteen students are expected to take part in the program. They will leave in June for either a six-week or ten-week program of study and travel.

How Emotionally Normal Are You?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people today wonder whether civilization is nutty—or whether they are.

The suspicion is natural and healthy.

Just where do you really stand? How mentally and emotionally normal are you?

For folks who can't afford a psychiatrist's couch we've compiled a kind of poor man's sanity test.

Ask yourself these questions. But, remember, be absolutely honest.

Do you enjoy gossip, as long as it is about somebody else?

In reading about how someone held up a bank by pointing at the teller with his fist in a brown paper bag, do you sigh and wish you had the courage to try it, too?

Now and then are you struck with the idea that someone or something is following you?

Do you keep your eyes wide open when you kiss your wife goodbye in the morning?

Are you convinced that your shoelaces never break except when you are in a desperate hurry?

Does it ruin your day if some other motorist beats you to a parking place?

If a younger man is promoted over you at the office, do you suspect it is because he has pull, or toadied to the boss?

Do you feel the tax assessor unduly favors your neighbors, and your own home taxes are unfairly high?

If the office boy whistles cheerfully while sorting the mail do you scowl at him?

At least once a day does something happen to you that makes you want to hire a lawyer and file suit?

Are you morally sure that all politicians are liars, and all television repairmen and garage mechanics are playing you for a sucker?

Your kids don't appreciate you, do they? They don't know how easy they've got it, do they?

Do you feel nobody can really sympathize with your woes, because nobody knows the trouble you've seen?

Do you feel the world is going to hell in a handwagon, just as fast as it can?

Well, that is your sanity test. Now about your score. If your answer to every question was a thumping "Yes!"—well, cheer up. You are just as sane and normal as everyone else in your block.

Which leaves only one problem.

Just how nutty do you think they are?

Mobile Teams Report Success In Home Aid

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Substantial success has been reported for a pioneering effort in home treatment of severely ill, elderly psychiatric patients by mobile teams of mental health personnel.

Described by a Boston psychiatrist, the venture obviously offers one approach to help lessen a possible strain on public and private mental hospitals when the medicare program for the nation's oldest becomes effective this summer.

Dr. Dana M. Sheldon, associate director of the Psychiatric Home Treatment Service, Boston State Hospital, told about it in a report to the 122nd annual meeting of the American Psychiatric Association.

Declaring the service is "a pioneering venture in community psychiatry" in this country, and that it is modeled on the "highly successful mobile psychiatric units" originated in Europe — D.R. Sheldon gave this account of the Boston program and its results:

"The service serves the entire Dorchester section of Boston — a community of 180,000 persons — utilizing a staff of two psychiatrists, two social workers, four registered nurses, one occupational therapist, plus residents in psychiatry and students of nursing and social work.

A special study was made of 50 patients over 60 years of age during a 17-month period — and it was found that approximately 75 per cent "were successfully managed in the community" without need for referral to a hospital. The results of this study are extremely significant," Sheldon reported, "because they show that, despite severe psychiatric illness, most elderly patients can be managed without hospitalization."

But he said the study also pointed up two prime requirements for continued success:

1. An "ally" in the patient's family who will cooperate with the visiting, mobile team is virtually indispensable.

2. The combination of medical and psychiatric illness — so common in the over-60 group — presents "serious problems during home treatment." Thus, there is a "need for a more comprehensive psychiatric-medical team approach to the care of geriatric patients in the community."

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The slowdown in the economy could be overestimated because it is making its first appearance in the three places to which the public pays most attention: the stock market, the auto industry and home building.

Much of the rest of the economy is still whirling along at about the same speed and some sectors are likely to increase their pace.

But a chill has replaced the speculative fever in the stock market. And when stock prices drop, many Americans—even those who don't own a single share—begin to shiver.

The auto industry has cut back from full-speed production after sales slipped slightly from a pace that outsiders had considered hard to maintain. And the general public holds widely to the opinion that as the auto industry goes so goes the nation.

Home building stopped expanding some time back. But many had hoped that this spring would see a revival. This hasn't come so far. And home builders tend to blame tight money and higher interest rates. When cities and towns stop growing at a breakneck speed, the local citizens worry.

But much of the rest of the economy is still zooming along. Steel output has climbed to the highest rate of the year. Last week the mills turned out 2,776,000 tons. This isn't far from the record week's production of 2,806,000 tons set in the week ending April 24, 1965. And the mills are talking about a good chance that total tonnage this month will be the highest for any May.

Defense spending has picked up speed. And as the factories get the government orders, busy weeks and months lie ahead.

The aircraft industry is enjoying not only defense orders but large ones from commercial airlines, both here and abroad.

Consumer spending in general continues at a high rate, with only car buying as the main, and most publicized, exception. But even if auto sales slip from last year's nine-million unit pace, the total will still be higher than in most other years.

Industrial output in general was still rising in April. The gain for the month wasn't as much as in March and February. And cutbacks in the auto factories may clip the May figures. But production of consumer goods—both durables and soft goods—is well ahead of last year's rate. And few business leaders look for any real decline for some months to come.

Factories and stores both report that inventories are holding at about the same ratio to sales as in the earlier months of the year. Until stocks begin to pile up, if they do, economists won't start worrying about industry living off its inventories and cutting its new orders.

None of these pleasant statistics detract from the underlying economic uncertainties tied to the Viet Nam war. Nor is the general health of the economy likely to distract the public from its nervous watching of the stock market and Detroit's sales figures.

But caution, too, can be overdone.

Viet Nam

rebel fire on two flights over Da Nang.

It crashed on a beach two miles east of town after taking seven hits from anti-aircraft guns based near one of the three pagodas controlled by rebels. Neither American was injured.

The rebel soldiers aimed automatic weapons and rifle fire on each of the plane's two low passes over the politically divided city. There was no immediate explanation of the reason for the plane's flight which followed shortly after a Vietnamese air force plane dropped government leaflets on the rebel areas.

While both sides jockeyed troops in the political power struggle, hunger-striking Buddhists appealed for U.S. support against the military junta. Both Ky and the Buddhists said they wanted to avoid civil war.

In his first statement on the latest crisis, Ky told a newsman he was confident he would avoid a civil war by "political rather than military pressure."

He also said he had been under no obligation to forewarn U.S. officials of his surprise move of troops to Da Nang Sunday.

To the sound of drums and gongs, 20 Buddhist monks and nuns began a 48-hour hunger strike at noon in Saigon to protest the government's attempt to quell the opposition in the north.

The United Buddhist Church sent a cable to President Johnson saying the religious faction opposed "the disloyal and cruel acts of the government in South Viet Nam, which may lead to civil war."

The Buddhist hierarchy also issued a communique saying it distrusts Ky and his Roman Catholic chief of state, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, and supports the struggle for "freedom and democracy" in the northern provinces. The communique appealed to Vietnamese of all religions and political persuasion to "unite together in order to bring the nation out of disaster."

As a precaution against new street violence, the junta brought two battalions of Vietnamese marines into the Saigon area.

In a reply to an earlier appeal for U.S. support by the leading anti-government monk, Thich Tri Quang, President Johnson urged the Buddhists to settle with the government without bloodshed.

About 2,000 mourners marched quietly through Hue, the other northern center of opposition, with the body of an army lieutenant shot Tuesday by an American helicopter gunner. Armed rebel soldiers paraded the streets and manned barricades on the road to the military airport, but U.S. military advisers denied rebel reports that pro-Ky troops were marching on Hue.

Against the backdrop of continuing political crisis, the U.S. air cavalry sent three more battalions of Americans into a bloody fight against fleeing North Vietnamese regulars in the central highlands.

A U.S. military spokesman described the battle in 6-foot-tall elephant grass near An Khe, 250 miles northeast of Saigon, as "hand-to-hand and elbow-to-elbow."

He said the skytroopers had the 350 or more Reds on the run Tuesday night but made heavy contact again this morning.

In the only other major ground action reported, several battalions of Vietnamese infantrymen and rangers killed 262 Viet Cong in fighting south of Saigon in the Mekong River delta coastal province of Bac Lieu, a government spokesman said. Another 100 Reds were killed by air attacks, he said, while government casualties were light.

Monsoon rains still crippled the U.S. aerial offensive against North Viet Nam, and Air Force and Navy pilots logged only 23 missions north of the 17th Parallel Tuesday.

FIVE PERISH IN JET TANKER MISHAP

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A jet tanker dug a wing into a runway while landing at Amarillo Air Force Base and cartwheeled in flames Tuesday night, killing all four crewmen and a passenger.

The Strategic Air Command's KC135 assigned to the 9th Refueling Squadron here, was returning from a four-hour local mission.

THE BORN LOSER

Arrest Selma Man In Disputed Election Shots

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A 24-year-old white Selma man has been arrested in connection with the firing of three shots into the former home of Wilson Baker who is involved in a disputed election for sheriff.

A hearing was scheduled Tuesday in City Court for William W. Kilgore who is charged with assault with intent to murder and shooting into an occupied dwelling, Asst. Police Chief No. 1 Chambers said.

The home into which the three shots were fired is now the residence of W. T. Lockett, a postal employee. However, it is still listed in official directories as Baker's home.

The former public safety director, now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Dallas County, moved to a house across the street. Baker's opponent is segregationist Sheriff James G. Clark.

Clark ran second to Baker, considered a racial moderate, in a four-man race in the May 3 primary.

Gemini 9

called for an immediate technical review of the failure. He said that when the exact cause is pinpointed all Atlas slated for flight will be examined to make certain the same problem would not occur.

Included are three Atlas-based rockets already being checked out on Cape Kennedy pads. They are to launch a Surveyor craft toward a soft landing on the moon May 30; an orbiting geophysical observatory in June, and a lunar orbiter in July.

If modifications have to be made, those rockets, the Gemini 9 substitute Atlas, and other Atlas fired on military space missions from Vandenberg may have to be delayed.

A crew began cleaning up the Atlas-Agena launch pad today and NASA hoped to erect another Atlas within a few days.

But instead of an Agena, a less sophisticated target satellite will be used. It is called an Augmented Target Docking Adapter — a device that was built quickly after an Agena failed to achieve orbit on the original Gemini 6 launching attempt last Oct. 25.

Several weeks would be required to ready another Agena — and it would have to be borrowed from Gemini 10, 11 or 12. The ATDA, which has been on standby in a Cape Kennedy hangar, could be ready to go in two weeks.

By using the ATDA as a docking target, Stafford and Cernan will not be able to accomplish all the goals of their aborted flight. For one thing, the ATDA has no propulsion system, and the astronauts will not be able to maneuver through the skies with it.

They also will have to restrict some of the complex rendezvous maneuvers planned.

COLD CASH GETS HOT

DETROIT (AP) — Some $2,000 in refrigerated cash got "hot" Tuesday.

Mrs. Wilma Causey, 20, told Detroit police a woman and a man armed with a revolver entered her home, forced her to lie on the floor and grabbed the money from the refrigerator.

She said her father, Walter Wingate, 50, had been saving the money in the bottom of the refrigerator.

Goldwater Pennsylvania Nominates Shapp, Shafer

Goldwater declared that those who fight for conservatism will be vilified.

"In a sense, you'll be fighting Santa Claus when you oppose ill-conceived programs of social engineering," he said, "it makes no difference if this Santa has a false beard and a bag full of goodies paid for out of the taxpayer's dollar."

Kidnaper

back seat of the car, forced the deputy to drive toward Highway 522, a quarter of a mile away down a farm lane.

At the Ruback farm, Hollenbaugh ordered the bleeding deputy to get out and open the gate to the highway.

Conny said young Ruback pointed a shotgun loaded with a slug out the window of his home and fired. As the slug spun Hollenbaugh around, the girl broke away and ran.

A state police car pulled up and Hollenbaugh fired two shots at the officers. They returned the fire and Hollenbaugh went down.

"Young Larry fired his shotgun as another state trooper fired at Hollenbaugh," Conny said. "It is believed Hollenbaugh was struck simultaneously by rounds from the trooper's gun and the shot by Larry."

Conny said he believed Hollenbaugh died as he fell to the ground. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Fulton Medical Center in nearby McConnellburg.

Dr. G.T. Lorentz, who examined Peggy Ann at the McConnellburg medical center, said he found no evidence that she had been physically molested. She bore some scratches and her feet were blistered and sore from walking between hideouts during her week of captivity, he said.

Dr. Lorentz said the girl told him she and her kidnaper had been living on canned beans and corn. He described Peggy Ann as exhausted and said it might be several days before she could talk to newsmen.

Peggy's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Bradnick, saw her at the medical center but did not speak with her because she was resting.

"Thank God she's back," said Mrs. Bradnick.

Asked his reaction to the death of his daughter's kidnaper, Bradnick replied: "What would you be?"

Mrs. Bradnick said the family often had seen Hollenbaugh riding his bicycle around the Shade Gap area, but had never spoken to him and had no idea why he seized their daughter.

Hollenbaugh's death climaxed a massive manhunt which flared into tragedy Tuesday when the fugitive gunned down FBI agent Terry Ray Anderson, 42.

Anderson was shot down as he approached Hollenbaugh's cabin on a wooded hillside Tuesday with four other lawmen and three tracker dogs.

"Shots came out of nowhere," said State Police Maj. Frank McKetta. The first shot killed two of the dogs and wounded a third. Another shot killed Anderson.

FBI agents from Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and other offices joined state and local police and game wardens in surrounding the area.

Conny said Hollenbaugh came under suspicion when FBI agents checking his background learned he had a burglary record and had served 13 years in the Fairview State Hospital for the Criminally Insane. He was released from the hospital in June 1959.

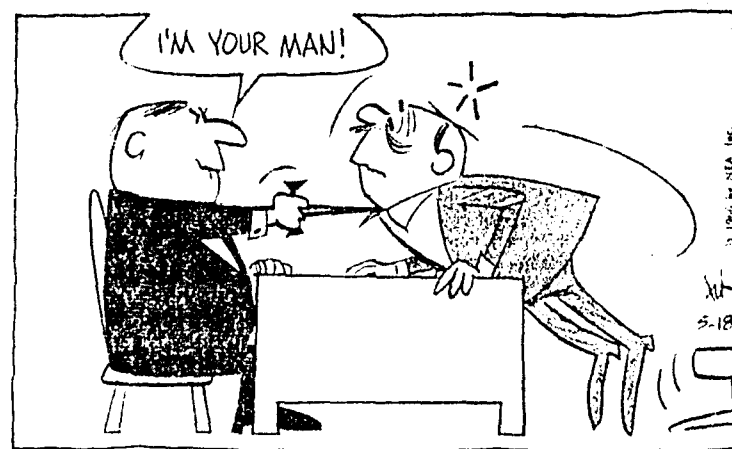

The mountain cabin where he had since lived alone was about six miles south of Shade Gap, about 150 yards from Route 522 and not far from a tunnel which takes the Pennsylvania Turnpike through the Tuscarora ridge of the Appalachians.

Police had long suspected that Hollenbaugh was a mysterious sniper known as "the Mountain Man" who fired shots at five persons in the past two years. Two were wounded — one man so seriously that his leg had to be amputated.

Admits Phonies In TV Repair

CHICAGO (AP) — The executive director of the National Alliance of Television and Electronic Service Associations says the television repair industry "needs some cleaning up."

"We readily admit there are phonies in the business," Executive Director Frank J. Moch told newsmen Tuesday. "We do everything we can to put them out."

Moch's comments were in reference to a report by Illinois Atty. Gen. William J. Clark Monday in which he said a three-month investigation of TV repair shops showed that the majority of those investigated defrauded and overcharged customers.

"I should like to say," Moch added, "that the industry has not muffed the responsibility for cleaning up. The legislature could have straightened things out long ago when the alliance first recommended licensing."

Moch said his organization has been trying for years to get a licensing bill through the Illinois General Assembly and will try again in the 1967 session. He said such a bill was passed almost unanimously by the 1965 House, but was killed in the Senate.

ILLINOIS BANKERS GROUP OPPOSES BRANCH BANKING

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — The Illinois Bankers Association has approved unanimously a declaration opposing branch banking.

The declaration, approved Tuesday at the final day of the three-day 75th Diamond Jubilee Anniversary Convention, stated that "present or future attempts to change or interpret the state banking law to permit branch banking or the extension of holding company banking in any active form of monopolistic branch banking would be opposed."

The convention also favored requiring national banks to conform to state branching laws.

John (Shorty) Powers, former public affairs officer of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency, told the 1,200 guests and delegates that private enterprise has been important in the nation's space program.

Officers elected by the association are Dirk H. Groen of Pekin, president; Harold J. Bacon of Crystal Lake, first vice president; Allen P. Stults of Chicago, second vice president; and George R. Lockard of West Frankfort, treasurer.

FIND THIRD SLAIN MAN CONNECTED WITH PAINTERS

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A third man connected with a painters' union half-million-dollar welfare fund was found shot to death Tuesday night in his office.

Lt. Bud Warner of the Sacramento County sheriff's office said Sture Youngren, 55, was shot in the head with a .45 caliber automatic pistol in an apparent suicide.

Youngren, an insurance man, was the administrator of the fund for the AFL-CIO Painters Union Local 478.

Two labor leaders who questioned the way the fund was handled were slain previously. Five men have been indicted by the San Francisco grand jury in one of those assassinations.

Assassinated were Dow Wilson, 40, leader of the union's San Francisco Local 4, and Lloyd Green, 45, financial secretary of the union's local in Hayward, near San Francisco.

CHICAGO (AP) — Three men held up the K-Mart Discount Store Tuesday night and police said they escaped with about $20,000.

The men asked the store's assistant manager, Sheldon Lyman, to take them to the office, that they had something to show him. Lyman said they used a code number which made him believe they had legitimate business there.

Once in the office, Lyman said, the men pulled guns and demanded the money. Coming out of the office they shot at the feet of an unidentified man who was in their way.

The men escaped in a car which was found shortly afterwards in the parking lot of a store four blocks east of the mart. Police said the car was stolen.

Village Wants City To Sell Raw Water; Set Second Meeting

Members of the South Jacksonville village board Tuesday night proposed that the city consider the sale of raw water to the village instead of increasing the water and sewer rates by 250 per cent.

Meeting with members of the city council, the village board opened negotiations concerning the increase in rates, approved by the Jacksonville aldermen some months ago.

Board President William Fanning said that the village is prepared to construct its own water treatment plant and sewer system, and be able to pay for the program within six years.

E.W. BROWN MOTORS

Robert Jameson, superintendent of the city utilities, told those present that the sale of raw water by the city "would not be feasible."

Jameson said that during the years from 1959 to 1965, the operational costs of maintaining Jacksonville's water and sewer system has increased $68,000 for labor and chemicals alone.

Conflicts Ironed - Out During the meeting, each municipality related to the other their situation and problems concerning water and sewer systems and several points of conflict were cleared-up.

In proposing the sale of raw water, Fanning asked the council to consider a long term contract, if the proposal met with their approval.

Toward the close of the meeting, those present decided to meet June 7 to determine the city's position concerning the village's proposal.

During recent months, the village, and council had assumed that the increase in water and sewer rates to the village would be 300 per cent.

After examining the issue, board members and aldermen realized that it would mean an increase in three times the amount compared to village and city customers, but not a 300 per cent increase in rates.

Present Rates Presently, Jacksonville customers pay $1 for the first 1,000 gallons, while the village residents pay $1.20.

Jameson said that during the past six years, labor costs have increased, as well as chemical costs. He said that the city is presently planning an expanded sewage treatment system, which he felt should not be shouldered by city water customers alone.

Fanning agreed, but added that South Jacksonville should not be asked to pay for 60 per cent of the cost, with only 10 per cent of the population.

Following the meeting, board members and aldermen each commented to reporters that although no definite decision was reached, the meeting did iron out several points which had been confusing to each side.

Heavy Rains Flood Highways In Local Area

Heavy thunderstorms in Jacksonville Tuesday night continued to soak an already damp soil with 2.83 inches of rainfall recorded during a 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. Wednesday.

Although no extensive damage was reported as a result of the high winds, lightning caused damage to a home west of Diamond Grove cemetery.

State Route 104 was blocked at Rees underpass most of Tuesday night and early Wednesday. Several intersections in Jacksonville were also flooded and closed to traffic.

Police noted that Brooklyn and Oak streets were again closed by the flooding of the Town Brook, which has left its normal bed twice during the past two days.

Lightning Hits House Lightning, that accompanied Tuesday evening's rain, was blamed as the apparent cause of a fire shortly after 7:30 p.m. at a home located near Diamond Grove cemetery.

The lightning evidently struck a wire on an air conditioner in workshop in the basement of the Dr. William Young residence.

When the conditioner was turned on about 7:15, the wire ignited.

Dr. Young used a garden hose and fire extinguisher to partially douse the blaze before Jacksonville firemen arrived and used a booster line to extinguish the fire.

Assistant Fire Chief Alvin Smith said several machines in the workshop were damaged, as well as the floor joists, walls and ceiling of the basement.

Smith estimated damage would run into at least several hundreds of dollars. Smoke also damaged another main section of the first floor of the house.

Firemen remained at the scene for over an hour. Highways Flooded Several highways, and county roads surrounding Jacksonville were covered with water Tuesday night, backing up traffic in some places for several hundred yards.

U.S. 36-54 west was covered with water between Lynnville to the Merritt vicinity, and one and one-half mile east of Orleans east.

State road 104 was water-clogged west of Bethel, and south at the Rees Station underpass, and south on U.S. 67 near the drive-in theater.

One traffic accident was reported on city streets Tuesday night.

Police reports listed an accident at Lincoln and West Morton at the entrance to the Phillips 66 station.

Officers noted that a car driven by Willis R. Yowell of Jonesboro, Ark. was attempting a left turn into the station drive when his vehicle was struck from the rear by a Meadow Gold Dairy truck.

Operator of the truck, William J. Ward of 12 Westgate Circle said he did not see Yowell's turn indicator.

Adults Copiers Not Leaders For Youth?

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Are adults copycats, following the young generation instead of trying to lead it?
Dr. Emanuel Demby, president of Motivational Programmers, Inc., says:
"From time immemorial, young people have carved out individualistic group patterns, behavior that made them like teen-agers and separated them from us.

"Then the tide began to turn." Adults took over rock 'n' roll music; they adopted the Twist, Frug and Watusi; they sliced hems above the knee; they even talked about a sexual revolution almost as much as the youngsters.
"Every step that youth took to differentiate itself was followed by a copycat action on the part of adult society," Demby told a recent scientific meeting.
The one exception: smoking pot — marijuana — and using psychedelics.

"It is almost as though this is the only no-man's land between youth and adult society. Thus, it is not surprising that more and more young people are taking a stand that pot, LSD and all the rest are not only not harmful, but helpful to their growth. Adult society, anxious and fearful, accuses youth of becoming alienated and degraded by dependence on drugs."
In depth interviews with young people, Demby said, "We found them almost thanking God that in at least one area of human activity adults were not copying youth."

Demby, who is senior research consultant to the College of Business Administration of Fairleigh Dickinson University, said one youth told him:
"Adults are the enemy."
Another said: "We're taking over sooner or later. We have to. We're the active generation. Youth is the generation of betrayal. You started out idealistic. You wound up commercial."
Youth, said Demby, sees adult society as a pitiable, alienated, replaceable segment of the world's population.

Demby was fascinated to discover that one of the basic things with teen-agers is putting their parents on — making them think things that aren't so.
One youngster explained to him: "We tell parents things just to find out what it takes to shock them. The Beatles are a big put-on. We don't really care. But it's the biggest put-on of them all. Nobody cares except the parents. They think it's real. And the kids who are too young think it's real too. Pop art is one great big put-on."

Both girls attend St. Mary's Academy here. Others from the Academy who were finalists were Michael Boylan and Leon Koch. Cindy Kunkel from Brown County High School was also a finalist. Lanny Koch, last year's winner, was a guest at the banquet.

Beverly Cox, winner of the spelling bee at Brown County High School, competed in the contest for the 23 finalists at Peoria May 14th. The bee was sponsored by the Peoria newspaper.

Brown County High School students enjoyed a dance Friday night at the gym. Music was furnished by Brille and the Firebirds.

Nuts Bear Up Under Freezing In Jersey Area

JERSEYVILLE — Until the late freezing weather struck the area this week, the outlook for a nut crop was reported to be excellent. Shell bark hickory trees were blossoming heavily before the freezing weather arrived, and this was true of other nut producing trees.

The extent of the damage may take several weeks to determine, local authorities state.
There will, however, be few buckeyes for school boys and girls to gather in Jerseyville next autumn. For some unknown reason the trees of the species growing in the locality failed to put forth many blossoms.

Reports of the fruit damage in Jersey county vary in different localities. Archie Smith, supervisor for Elsie Township was in Jerseyville Friday and reported that his apricot crop had been badly damaged and considerable damage done to the peaches. Smith stated that his apricots were frozen through to the pit.

Viet War's Second Front

The Pentagon is beginning to look as pockmarked as the North Vietnamese countryside. Every day seems to register another barrage of criticism lobbed across the Potomac from Capitol Hill in the direction of Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's offices.

Lately, the embattled secretary has been called upon to explain everything from a shortage of 750-pound bombs in Viet Nam to why he did not allow the development of armed helicopters until the actual battlefield need became urgently clear, from alleged waste in surplus military equipment to the status of National Guard and reserve units.

The House Armed Services Committee says it found guard and reserve units in three states it investigated "stripped to the point where they couldn't handle a flood, far less a war."

A Senate foreign aid subcommittee claims that the Agency for International Development (AID) has warehouses around the world clogged with such items as new or easily repairable jeeps, trucks, tank trailers, cement mixers, bulldozers, tractors, fork-lift vehicles, graders, scrapers, rock-crushing plants, spare parts and brand-new hand tools — all declared surplus and to be given away to other nations — when much of this material is in short supply in Viet Nam.

All of this may not mean much to a mother in Cleveland, Ohio. But when her son in Viet Nam writes home asking her to buy him a set of fatigues because he had never been issued any, as she revealed to a local newspaper, her indignation becomes understandable. It does not help matters to tell her that fatigues, or any other equipment her son might need, are freely available on the black market in Saigon.

McNamara was on his way to establishing a record as the most efficient secretary of defense in history — until the war in Viet Nam suddenly intervened. It is becoming painfully evident that this war, no more than any other, cannot be fought with pared-down inventories. It is not something that can be planned with precision, like a production run on an automobile assembly line.

As Robert Hotz, editor of Aviation Week & Space Technology, wrote recently: "If Mr. McNamara really believes it is possible to fight and win a war by killing the last enemy with the last bullet as the last soldier eats the last can of beans in the quartermaster's store, this nation faces serious trouble ahead."

McNamara's cost-cutting reforms and tight management of the Pentagon have saved this nation billions in the five years he has held the job. But all the billions are forgotten when even one instance of waste or boondoggling comes to light, or even one serviceman can't get fatigues.

This is unfortunate, both for the man in the service and for the secretary of defense. Both deserve better. But war itself is the most unfortunate thing of all, and even more unfortunate when a nation is not prepared for it, on whatever level and in whatever part of the world it has to be fought.

The Larger Mysteries

One of the more interesting things about scientific research is that it keeps solving small mysteries and, in the process, turned up bigger ones. The work of Margaret Vince of Cambridge University, who has been trying to learn how it is that clutches of bird eggs hatch at about the same time, is a case in point.

Miss Vince has concluded that the embryos of quail and some other birds signal to one another in the nest to make sure that they will all hatch together. "The embryos make a clicking noise," she reports after three years of study, "and these signals mean the embryos can either bring forward or retard the hatching time."

This, it cannot be denied, is a fascinating piece of research. It seems to provide an answer to a question that has long puzzled both scientific observers and ordinary folk with a taste for natural mysteries.

But further and greater questions occur: How in the world did such a clever mechanism evolve? What tells the quail embryo, huddled in its ovoid universe, that bursting into a larger universe in concert with other embryos in the nest is important to survival? How does the embryo learn which clicking noises mean "Hurry it up," and which mean "Slow down a bit?" How do other embryos learn to interpret the clicks?

As we say, research is a wonderful tool for solving small mysteries — and it even works on some very big ones. But there are always bigger ones unanswered.

Dear Ann:

Expectant Dad's Heart Set on Boy

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are expecting our first child in about eight weeks. We've been married seven years and had almost given up hope, so of course this child means a great deal to us.

I can truthfully say I do not care if it is a boy or a girl, and at first my husband didn't care either. But these past couple of months he has been making some very unsettling remarks to friends, relatives — anyone who will listen. Last night he told my mother, "If it isn't a boy, it's for sale."

I laughed it off when he first began to say such things, but it's no longer funny. I'm beginning to think he actually has his heart set on a boy and if it's a girl he will be terribly disappointed.

We live in a small town and everyone has heard about my husband's remarks. I've had a difficult pregnancy and this isn't making it any easier. Please give me some help. —WEARY

Dear Weary: The King of Sweden has a throne problem. What's your knucklehead's excuse?

Expectant fathers who voice a preference for either a boy or a girl baby cause their wives embarrassment and anxiety. Moreover they look like fools because, invariably, the ones who scream the loudest for boys end up so goofy about their daughters that they are positively obnoxious. Show this column to your husband and let's hope it will persuade him to keep his mouth shut.

Dear Ann Landers: Eight years ago our daughter Melanie married a young man who was notably lacking in ambition. Her father and I tried to make her understand that if she married the young man she might have to do without many of the things she took for granted.

The day before Melanie eloped she screamed at us, "I don't care if we never have a dime. All I want is HIM!" So now she has "him" (who prefers to work a night shift so he can play golf during the day) plus five children and plenty of unpaid bills.

Last night Melanie said it would be very nice if her father and I gave them $5,000 so they could get out of debt and take a trip. "We've never been anywhere since our honeymoon," she complained, which is, of course, true.

When her father failed to show much enthusiasm for Melanie's suggestion, both she and her husband became hostile.

"They called us 'tighwads,' selfish and abnormal. They claim that parents who can afford to help their children out with money gifts have a moral obligation to do so. 'Why wait until you die?' Melanie shouted. 'If you give us money now, we won't have to pay inheritance taxes!'"

Will you comment, please? —THE R'S

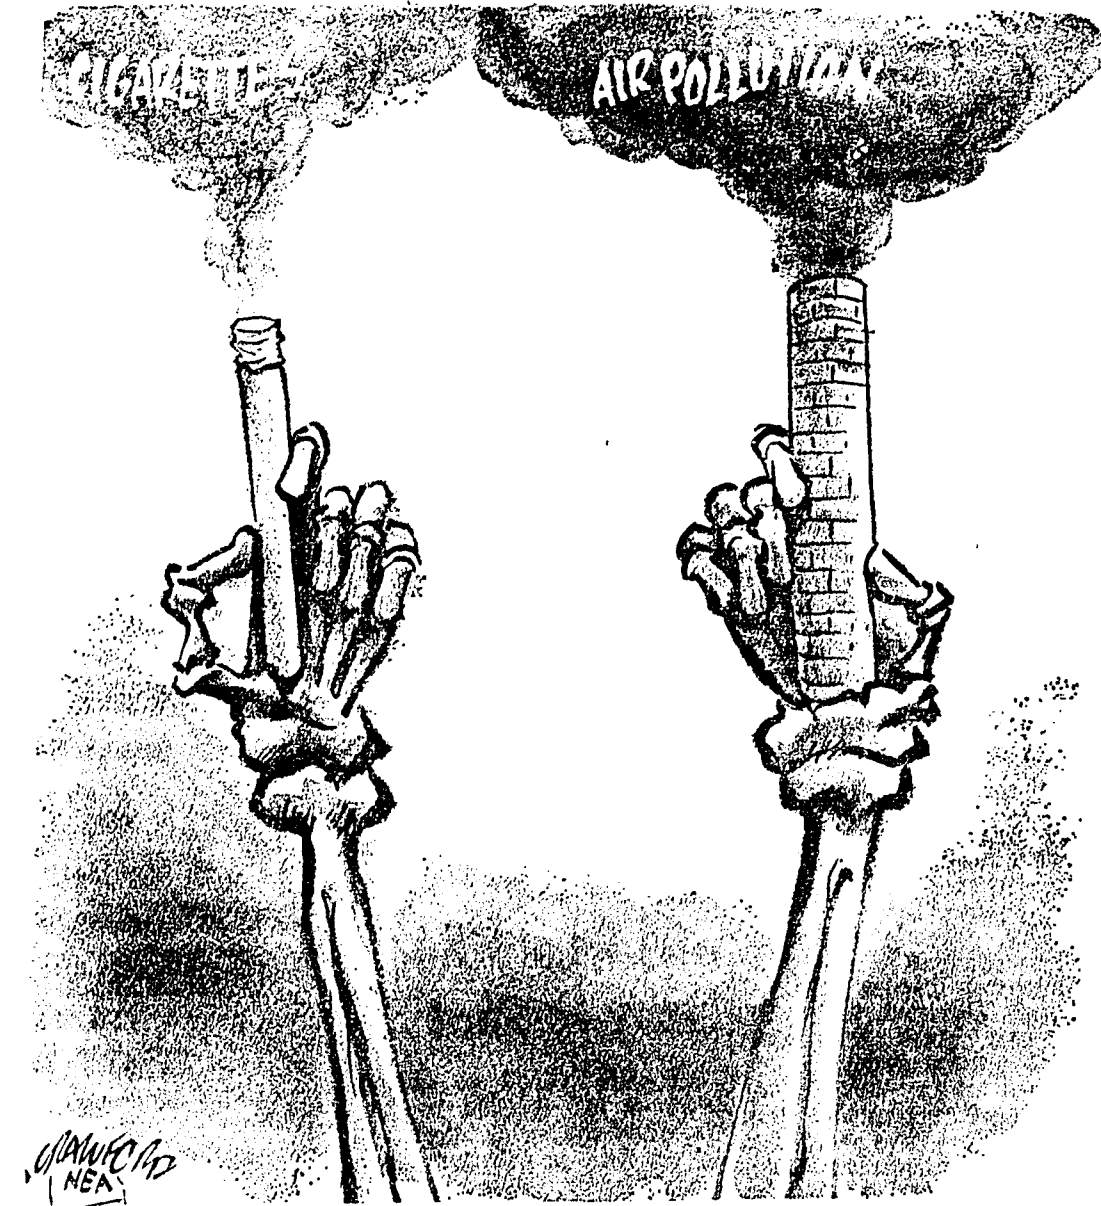

Dear R's: Parents have moral obligations to raise their children to be independent and self-reliant. They do not owe their children gifts and continued financial support after marriage. And they don't owe them an inheritance either.

Giving can be a joy, but your children are trying to chisel money from you — and that takes it out of the gift class.

Your daughter is employing emotional blackmail. Don't let her ugly remarks push you into giving her or her golf-playing husband one dime more than you "want" to give them.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Two GOP Governors Find Schools Drive Taxes Up

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — GOP

Gov. William H. Avery of Kansas

might very well be in re-election trouble in a state less predominantly Republican than his. The reason is his spate of tax increases.

What has happened in Kansas, and somewhat earlier in neighboring Colorado, amounts to a hard rebuff of the constantly voiced conservative Republican argument that any well-intended, conscientious governor can cut spending and even taxes if he wants to.

Since he took office in early

1965, Avery has sought and gained from his Republican-controlled legislature a one-half cent increase in the state sales tax, a one per cent across-the-board increase in personal and corporate income taxes, the institution of withholding on income taxes, and no "forgiveness" of the prior year's levies.

The rocketing costs of education, whose demands are pressed

by an increasingly powerful cluster of "education lobbies," account in substantial measure for Avery's tax boosts.

Take a fresh look at Colorado.

Republican Gov. John Love, an able, attractive man who now seeks re-election to a second four-year term, won in 1962 on a platform calling for a smashing 15 per cent cut in Colorado's income tax rates. He fulfilled his promise.

But, within a year or so afterwards, Love was moving to get the money back. Like Avery, he was bombarded with irresistible demands for more school money.

Though income tax rates were held down, Colorado adjusted its tax structure to match the federal system. What this meant, in practical effect, was that a variety of helpful deductions enjoyed by Colorado citizens were wiped out.

On top of this, Love has gained a one-cent increase in the Colorado sales tax, higher beverage taxes, new and then later increased cigarette taxes.

Informed Colorado sources insist the per capita tax burden in the state today is higher than it was when Love took office in 1963.

These two examples in Kansas and Colorado ought to register with considerable impact on those who have been contending for years that all a governor needs to hold taxes down is good sense and a little gumption.

Love's 1962 tax-cut pledge made his state the perfect testing ground. Colorado's experience in the aftermath of the 15 per cent reduction is clear for all to see.

As for Kansas, it is about as Republican in complexion as any state in the union. Avery, backed by a GOP legislature, would seem to have had everything going for him if he wished to hold tight. He was unable to do so.

Probably no state can hope in the years immediately ahead, to hold the spending and taxing line more than temporarily.

Education costs are the big reason.

Much is made these days of the federal government's multi-billion dollar plunge into educational waters. But right now

state and local governments are outspending Washington on schools by a ratio of 13 to 1. All signs point to further state-local increases.

Of the $26 billion spent by state and local governments annually, $23 billion goes for elementary and secondary schools,

the rest for higher education.

Rising enrollments make the future clear.

Scratch a man who is hollering in 1966 that "your government's taxes and spending can be cut or held steady" and you will find a fellow who never has occupied a governor's chair in this age of rising numbers of people and tax dollars.

We, the Women

Bad Luck or Poor Planning?

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

As a housewife do you feel that you have more than your share of those days when everything goes wrong?

You can't — as long as you are running a home and looking after a family — entirely eliminate those frustrating days

when one thing after another bogs down. But you can make them less frequent by taking a few precautions.

One — When you have a deadline to meet always allow yourself a little more time than you

ly allow yourself a few extra minutes each morning for getting your family up and on their way. Having to rush in the morning can get a whole day off to a bad start.

Two — Try not to let work pile up so badly that some unexpected slow-down puts you in a panic.

Three — Make a habit of doing everything you can before it absolutely has to be done.

schedule. Planning a week's work in advance makes it easier to handle the unexpected problems that are sure to come up.

Five — Don't overload yourself with outside activities.

Take on only as many as you enjoy and can handle without making your life hectic.

Six — Expect (if you expect it you'll get it) some co-operation from your family. Household chores can, and should, be shared.

If you feel you have more than your share of days when everything goes wrong, from morning until night, it could be lack of planning, rather than bad luck, that is responsible.

Rain Fails To Halt Safety Lane Tuesday

Although rain dampened the Tuesday opening of the 12th annual Safety Check Lane, police reported that the total number of vehicles examined only missed the 1965 mark by 16 cars.

A total of 536 vehicles turned out for a Circle of Safety Tuesday, after the lane opened a about ten o'clock that morning.

Police said that 97 vehicles were rejected because of mechanical flaws, but operators of 47 cars returned for the seal of safety.

During the day, operators of the lane were assisted by members of the local Exchange club, and mechanics John Buker of DeWitt Motors and Wayne Stannberry of the Lukeman Motor company assisted police.

Coca-Cola supplied refreshments at the lane Tuesday.

Announcement was made by police that AMVET Post 100 would again be in charge of a Bicycle Safety Check Saturday, May 28 at the Safety Check Lane between the hours of 9:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The bicycle check will be repeated at the Lincoln Square shopping center the following Saturday for any of those youths missing their first opportunity.

Bicycle safety stickers will be issued and bicycle licenses will be available for purchase.

Vocational Enrollment Doubled For September

Vocational enrollment for September at the high school level has almost doubled according to figures presented to the board of education of District 117 Tuesday evening.

High school Principal Farrell Patterson said much of the increase would be attributed to several new courses available in fields not previously covered.

Patterson said 696 students are enrolled for September compared to 466 students this year. Patterson said the September figure was approximately 40 per cent of the entire student body involved in some type of vocational training.

Supt. J. A. Mann said District 117 could be one of a half-dozen schools throughout the state to consider a general metals shop under direction of the state and University of Illinois. He said the state would pay half of equipment cost plus instructor's time if the program is authorized and the program is guaranteed three years.

Howard Arundel suggested a vocational program oriented to Jacksonville's five major industries which could help stem the tide of dropouts at the local level. Arundel suggested a meeting with the industries involved so that a program might be planned.

In the move of vocational courses now being taught to the new building in the fall, the board approved remodeling ex-

Two Local Men Join Air Force

Two local residents, Harold E. Enke, 19, and James O. Massey, also 19, have enlisted in the U.S. Air Force according to Sgt. Gene Duncan, local Air Force recruiter.

Enke, who graduated from Jacksonville High School in 1964 and attended Illinois College, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Enke, 209 E. Greenwood. Massey's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orval Massey, 1034 Dayton.

The two are presently receiving basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex. and will receive further instruction in the general career fields for which they qualified prior to enlistment.

GROUPS MEET AT RUSHVILLE CHURCH

RUSHVILLE — Rose Baird Group Two of the Rushville First Christian church entertained Dorcas Group One in the church dining rooms Friday evening. Eighteen persons were present.

Mrs. Virginia Redshaw conducted the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Guy Miller. Mrs. Richard Schenk gave devotion and Mrs. Charles Dace served as lesson leader.

Driver License Offices To Open On Saturdays

Secretary of State Paul Powell announced this week that beginning Saturday, May 21, driver license examining stations in 58 communities, including Jacksonville, will be open from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

"This new work schedule is an effort to accommodate those persons who would experience extreme inconvenience by having to take their driver license examinations during a normal working hours on weekdays," Secretary Powell said.

No Blanket Invitation

"It is definitely not an invitation to everyone to wait until Saturday to take the driver license examination, and if the public abuses this new work schedule to the point where good service becomes an impossibility, it may be necessary to revert to the weekdays-only schedule," Powell said.

He advised all applicants who can possibly take the examination on weekdays to do so, pointing out that past experience with Saturday hours has been so great that lengthy delays in completing the examination have been unavoidable.

"There have been occasions in previous experiments with Saturday hours where it was necessary to refuse to accept any more applicants after 10 a.m., because it would have been impossible to complete the examination for any additional applicants after that time," Secretary Powell said.

He also advised persons planning to take advantage of the Saturday hours not to bring young children to the examining station with them, because of the possible danger to both the children and the persons taking the examination.

Children are impulsive and quick, he pointed out, and sudden movements on their part could not only place them in danger, but could also startle a person who is already under the tension of taking an examination into making a false move.

"The driver license examination is a serious matter, and persons taking it should be given every opportunity to concentrate on all of its parts — the vision test, the written test on traffic laws, the road sign recognition test and the driving test — without distraction," Mr. Powell said.

An anticipation warrant of $30,000 was issued on the education fund and $6,000 was transferred from the education fund to the transportation fund.

The board has accepted the bid of O'Donnell's Termite and Pest Control company to treat the Brooklyn school for termites at a cost of $546. The bid includes a five-year guarantee and an inspection service.

Jacoby Senior starts today's discussion. "Here is an example of really fine card reading by George Rapee of New York."

Jim: "It was much more than mere card reading. George really placed almost every East-West card before he led to trick two."

Oswald: "He started by noting that West's queen of spades opening marked East with the ace and king. East had passed to start with so it was a certainty that West would hold the ace of clubs and almost a certainty that he would also show up with the king of diamonds so that South decided not to try a diamond finesse."

Jim: "He could afford to lose the diamond finesse if he could avoid the loss of a heart trick. He had two simple ways to do this. He could discard one of dummy's hearts on his own fourth club or he could finesse the heart successfully."

Oswald: "George found an additional chance. At trick two he led a club to dummy's jack. Then he ruffed another spade and played ace and one trump. West was on lead and got out by leading a third spade. George ruffed this and played his king of clubs. West was in with the ace and had no way to get out. A fourth spade lead would give George a ruff and discard, so West led away from his queen of hearts in the hope that his partner held the jack."

Jim: "If George had known about the actual club break he could have just led a low club, but his play protected against the actual 4-2 break and all possible 3-3 breaks in that suit."

Vietnamese Lady Mayor Has Man-Sized Problem

By BOB GASSAWAY
 DALAT, South Viet Nam (AP) — Nguyen Thi Hau, a Vietnamese woman, has problems that would make many men pull their hair. She deals with riots, Communist infiltration, a town's food supply and her own law practice.

Mrs. Hau is the only woman mayor in South Viet Nam. Her domain is this mountain resort, 185 miles northeast of Saigon.

The petite, 47-year-old mayor was born in North Viet Nam, but has fully adopted Dalat. She moved here in 1954 after the Geneva agreement divided Viet Nam.

"I came with my own parents, my husband and my children," she said in an interview. "My parents died here and are buried here in Dalat, so Dalat is my home town."

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky appointed Mrs. Hau March 19. Since then student riots have resulted in seven deaths, the burning of the Hotel Dalat, and the burning of the town's only radio station.

"I couldn't have guessed I would have to deal with such a political situation," she said. "Now we are trying to do our best to bring Dalat to a normal situation so that we can receive more travelers and tourists."

"My greatest trouble (since taking office) was with the food supply and the security," Mayor Hau said.

"The road from Saigon to Dalat has been cut off by the Reds. We have had to depend on other provinces for rice and milk. We grow our own vegetables here."

The mayor and her husband — both Buddhists — have three children.

Two sons, 21 and 24 years old, are studying engineering at the University of Montreal. A daughter, 19, is studying science at Cotey Junior College at Nevada, Mo., and will enter Radcliffe College next year.

The mayor's husband, Dr. Nguyen Huu Luong, is a surgeon at the civil hospital in Dalat.

Gifts To Uncle Sam Fail To Cut Debt Much

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam will have a long wait if he expects to pay off the national debt with gifts from the citizenry.

A special fund set up by Congress to receive debt-retiring gifts is almost five years old and it still hasn't collected its first million dollars.

The debt, however, has shot up by $30 billion during the same period to its present $320 billion.

The fund isn't designed to retire the entire debt, but it does afford a convenient spot for donors who want to do something about the high cost of government.

Treasury Department officials said today more than $815,000 had been contributed to the fund through April 30.

Before the fund was established, the department merely tossed into the general fund any contributions it received earmarked for debt retirement.

The reasoning was that this increased the budget surplus and reduced the deficit. The Treasury had no authority to earmark any contributions to debt retirement until June 27, 1961 when President John F. Kennedy signed a bill creating the special debt account. It was sponsored by Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla., who deposited the first gift, a $1,000 check.

In its first year, the trust received less than $10,000, but Treasury officials estimate it will produce about $100,000 yearly from now on.

Capsule interview with Mike Burke, CBS vice-presy in charge of baseball, on the eve of the Johnny Keane firing: "You got a few minutes to spare? 'Gee, what about?' Baseball, of course. 'Well, you know Dan Topping is in complete charge of the baseball operation.' ... You mean he could arbitrarily fire Keane? 'He could make a recommendation to the board.' ... And you're on the board? 'Yes.' ... Well, what does the board know about baseball? 'I saw half the Yankee games last year.' ... And more than half this year. ... Have a real wild rumor: Sonny Werblin, owner of the New York Jets, to buy the Yankees from CBS ... which would, of course, also make him the landlord of the football Giants. 'He's a gambler; he doesn't go by the book.' That was Ron Santo talking about Leo Durocher. Ron's the third baseman and captain of the Cubs. Is Leo the head coach? 'I refer to Leo as manager,' says Ron, 'the boss.' ... Santo also says that if Durocher had been in Chicago three years ago, the Cubs would now be a pennant contender, that Durocher is tougher on the players when they're winning than when they lose. ... First time Durocher met with the club in training camp, he pointed to the door and said, 'If you don't like the way I do things, that's where you should go.' ... Ran into Sugar Ray Robinson on 48th street in NYC directing a small construction job. He made it official for the 10th time: 'I'm not going to fight any more. I am going to make a couple of movies.' With retired athletes, that's the new kick, instead of going into 'insurance' - Robinson says he's going to Spain for his flicker. And in the meantime? 'I work out every night in the gym and I get up early in the morning and do my roadwork in the work in the park.' But why, if you're not going to fight again? 'You can't break a habit of 26 years, man.' ... All ballplayers coming away from Houston's Astrodome moan about the playing surface. Besides balls skipping off the ersatz grass like hardwood, they complain that the stuff gives you when they dig in. And second baseman Glenn Beckert of the Cubs notes, 'I'll really be trouble if they put it in the outfield, too.' ... Col. Ray Murphy, the Army athletic director in charge of hiring a football coach, is getting a liberal education from the experience. 'My phone rings,' he says, 'until 3 o'clock in the morning.' With applicants for the job, of course, 'I now know more people in the United States,' he adds, 'than I ever knew existed.' ... The topper was when he ran away from the rustic heights of West Point to spend a weekend in New York - 'to get away from it all.' ... The late Abe Saperstein made sure his famed Harlem Globetrotters would be perpetuated. Before his death, he'd already drawn up a schedule which will take them through the next two years. ... Think the winter's really over? Bob Beattie, head coach of the American ski team, already has his kids working out in the mountains. Seems the world championships come up in Portillo, Chile, this summer. Beattie thinks the best all-around skier in the world today is Austria's Karl Schranz, gives Billy Kidd a chance to pass him, 'though he's not as good an athlete.' ... Between you'n me, Art Arons, who became the fastest human on wheels in a home-made jet job, is now challenging the water. He's building his own boat for an assault on the water speed mark by putting pontoons on a drag racer. ...

Cassius Says He Would Retire If Cooper Wins

LONDON (AP) - Cassius Clay said Tuesday night he would retire if Britain's Henry Cooper takes the world heavyweight title from him in London Saturday night.

Clay is the 11-2 favorite to defeat Cooper and keep his title. The American is undefeated in 23 fights.

Cooper, prone to cuts over the eyes, has one big punch - his left hook. If Clay evades that, the fight probably won't last long.

Asked what would happen if Cooper pulled off the big upset, Clay replied: "I would retire."

Then he added: "If I were not the champion they would not give me a chance."

At one time Clay would have blown his top at any suggestion about retiring.

Now he takes any questions calmly for discussion.

Rusk Asks Viets To Pull Together

WASHINGTON (AP) - Secretary of State Dean Rusk called Tuesday on quarring South Vietnamese to "pull together" in the task of defeating the Reds and building a democratic society.

"All of our influence will be used to try to persuade all elements there to set aside the lesser issues in order to get on with the great tasks of the country," Rusk told a news conference.

Renewed Call

As for the renewed call by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., for an end to the bombing of North Vietnam, Rusk said: "We would like to have some indication from the other side that something would happen toward peace before we stop the bombing."

On other points Rusk said:

France's 14 allies have found "a high degree of unanimity" in going forward with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in the face of French President Charles de Gaulle's military pull-out.

Decisions on relocating and streamlining NATO may be reached among the 14 in advance of the NATO ministerial meeting scheduled at Brussels, Belgium, June 6-8.

Contrary to De Gaulle's argument that a dismantling of the integrated NATO defense would improve prospects for East-West agreements, "the possibilities for far-reaching agreements between the NATO countries and the Warsaw Pact countries are greater if there is unity and solidarity in NATO," Rusk credited previous NATO solidarity with, among other things, bringing about the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

Concerned

The United States is "concerned about some of the things that have been said" in Cairo recently and is studying Egypt's request for new U.S. aid "against the background of the entire situation." This situation includes Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's just-concluded trip there and Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's denunciation of U.S. actions in Vietnam as aggression.

Although Peking has again charged that U.S. war planes downed a Red Chinese craft in Chinese territory, the only information Washington has is of the air battle announced last week which the U.S. Air Force says occurred inside North Vietnam.

River Rising In Wake Of Spring Rains

BEARDSTOWN - Rain and snow in the northern section have put the Illinois River on a spring climb that is expected to stop Thursday at 18 feet.

The river hit 16 feet here Tuesday and Weather Observer Tom Phelps had no new crest forecast though rainfall was heavy.

Meanwhile, farmers in the Sangamon Valley area watched nervously as water crept up on low-lying fields, some of them just ploughed and ready for corn planting.

The lower road in the valley could be flooded if the river reaches 19 feet.

The situation is not new in the area for the river often hits this stage at this time of year.

Smart Shopping Will Help Slash Costs Say Grocers

WASHINGTON (AP) - The nation's supermarket industry, stung by government reports of sharply rising food prices and buyer resistance, dropped some broad hints Tuesday on how to beat the cost of living.

"Smart shopping" or "buy-manship," will help, suggest the National Association of Food Chains, representing 250 major firms.

Criticize Index

The association, criticizing the government's consumer price index as a "poor indicator of the consumer's actual food bill," said it is urging some 20,000 affiliated chain stores to help housewives learn to get the most for their money.

It was the first public statement from the industry on the past year's steady climb in living costs, most frequently blamed on grocery prices.

Food makes up 22.5 per cent of the Labor Department's consumer price index, which each month measures a broad range of prices that soak up the typical family budget.

Up 2.8

The March index was up 2.8 per cent from a year earlier on over-all living costs and up 7.2 per cent for food alone.

The index is one of the major indicators of price trends and the threat of inflation.

The association said the government index can be misleading because it "necessarily deals in national averages, which may or may not reflect what happened" in a particular locality.

The association offered the cooperation of local food chain representatives with new media to help tell shoppers how to squeeze their food dollar to the last drop.

"Bad weather in Florida might have a very immediate and direct effect on vegetable prices in the East, but would have a lesser effect in Western regions which get more-or-less-at their winter and spring vegetables from California and Arizona," the association said.

Turmoil In S. Viet Could Lead To Political Fiasco

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Special Correspondent

Political turmoil in South Vietnam could bring about what the Communists long have sought: Creation of an untenable rear for their forces which might lead eventually to a political Dien Bien Phu.

Communist broadcasts are jubilant about recent developments in the South. They see one convulsion after another. They see enemies among the southern generals. They note the militancy of a Buddhist movement which now has become a big political factor.

No Rest

All these, the Communists may feel, offer a promise that their foes will be given no rest in the cities, behind their lines, and that thus the will and ability to prosecute the war will be impeded.

U.S. administration leaders are pictured now as determined to support a strong military role in any future Saigon government, if that government is to have any chance of building a nation and fighting a war simultaneously.

But it has become doubtful that even military men in South Vietnam are able to establish any real unity of purpose so far as evolution of the state is concerned.

French Defeat

Fourteen years ago the French, facing the debacle at Dien Bien Phu which swept the Communist Vietnam to victory in all Indochina, exclusive of Vietnamese forces. This included army, navy and air forces in Laos and Cambodia as well as Vietnam.

Today the United States has 255,000 troops in South Vietnam alone. It still appears insufficient to do the two prime jobs: To conquer the Communist guerrillas and pacify the country.

In all the years of disasters and coups, the authority of the state often has seemed about ready to crumble into anarchy. The military men now find themselves faced with a highly emotional civilian-Buddhist movement, a volatile and unpredictable movement which tends to confound political authority in Saigon.

Ever since the regime of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem pushed the then disorganized Buddhists into militancy, the Buddhists have been organizing politically. Now they probably are the biggest single political factor in South Vietnam. And they are planning.

They have been planning to do everything the state-under military control-has failed to do up to now. They are organizing on all levels, city by city, town by town, block by block, family by family. They are pushing a program for education of youth in Buddhist ways.

The way they are building, Buddhists now can look forward to a hope when their various forms of resistance can control Saigon regimes.

It is not far-fetched to speculate that eventually the Americans might be invited to leave Vietnam, should certain Buddhist elements take control. The Americans then either would get out entirely or, if they decided to stay, be left with enclaves-like Little Berlins in Asia-at Da Nang, Saigon, Bien Hoa, Cap St. Jacques and elsewhere.

Missing Cosa Nostra Chief Turns Self In

NEW YORK (AP) - Cosa Nostra chieftain Joseph (Joe Bonanno) Bonanno, supposedly kidnapped in the rain on Park Avenue 18 months ago, returned from an underworld limbo Tuesday, tight-lipped about his mysterious disappearance.

The swarthy, ruggedly handsome Bonanno surrendered to federal authorities, who had a sealed indictment waiting for him, in connection with his failure to keep a date with a racketeering federal grand jury Oct. 21, 1964 - the day he vanished.

U.S. Dist. Judge Marvin E. Frankel set bail at $150,000, although the government asked $500,000. Bonanno was directed to surrender his passport and, except with specific permission, to keep away from steamship piers, railroads, airports.

Planned Ahead

Evidence that Bonanno's surrender had been planned in advance was indicated when he posted the bond, after pleading innocent. Authorization for the bond, backed by family collateral, had been signed May 9.

Bonanno, 61, one of the nation's top mobsters, arrived at the Federal Square to surrender wearing a gray-blue suit with rumpled trousers, dark gray hat, white shirt and dark tie. Beneath his busy eyebrows, he had on dark-rimmed spectacles.

"Mr. Bonanno has no statement to make at this time," said his lawyer, Albert J. Kriger. Newsmen, clamoring for some inkling as to Bonanno's whereabouts during his absence, received a stony glare from the defendant.

Bonanno variously has been reported as being in Canada, Mexico, Sicily and North Africa. His disappearance was believed linked to a struggle for territorial control with the Cosa Nostra, the national crime syndicate.

Don't Know

"We frankly don't know where he has been," U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau declared.

Bonanno was charged with obstructing justice through his failure to appear before the grand jury. The indictment carries a maximum five years in prison upon conviction.

Mobster Joseph Valachi told a 1963 Senate hearing that Bonanno headed one of the five Cosa Nostra families that control New York's graft, labor rackets and dope. A New York police report placed in evidence at the time called him "one of the most important" syndicate leaders in the country.

Nevertheless, Bonanno's record includes only a single conviction - a $450 fine and 18 months probation in 1942 for violating the federal wage and hour law in a women's coat factory he owned in Brooklyn.

Senate Group Seeks New Role As Spy-Watcher

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted Tuesday to seek a role in watching over the Central Intelligence Agency by expanding and upgrading the subcommittee that now has the job.

The subcommittee, known as "the Secret Seven," would be increased to nine members and given the title of full Committee on Intelligence Operations. It would oversee U.S. foreign intelligence and espionage operations of various agencies.

Before the 14-5 vote, the resolution was watered down, Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said, to make it "more palatable" to those in the Senate who oppose making any more senators privy to CIA secrets.

Expect Opposition

But the proposal is expected to run into stiff opposition from such senators as Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the present CI subcommittee. He disagrees sharply with Fulbright's contention that the CIA has overstepped its intelligence-gathering mission to influence foreign policy.

The resolution's chief sponsor, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., told newsmen after the vote, "I think we'll get action on the floor before the end of the session."

Knocked out were provisions to bring the FBI under the new committee's surveillance and to set up a staff of experts and employees to be paid out of Senate contingency funds.

The staff and fund provisions were eliminated by McCarthy to keep the resolution from being shuttled to the Rules Committee where its sponsors fear it might be pigeonholed.

In addition to the CIA, the committee would review budgets and appropriations and keep itself informed on the Defense Intelligence Agency, and the State Department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research.

Senior Members

The present subcommittee consists of the senior members of the Armed Services and Appropriations committees, with some overlapping of senators who are on both committees.

Fulbright Regrets Some Harsh Words

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said Tuesday he has come to regret some of the harsh words he has used in discussing American policy in Viet Nam "because they lent themselves to interpretations I did not intend."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, criticized news coverage of his statements in a speech to the National Press Club.

"I think you have some responsibility for conveying the essence of messages and not just those parts which lend themselves to controversy," Fulbright said.

Fulbright said he regrets saying that America "is showing some signs of that fatal presumption, that overextension of power and mission, which brought ruin to ancient Athens, to Napoleonic France and to Nazi Germany."

Not Clear

"I regret," he said, "that I neglected to make it clear that I was talking about the extent, not the character, of a nation's aspirations; the distinction between Hitler's desire for conquest and America's desire to do good in the world seemed to me so obvious as to be unnecessary to mention."

And he said most news accounts of the April 28 speech did not include the next sentence - declaring the process has just begun, but that the Viet Nam war can only accelerate it.

"The reader could properly infer from many press accounts that I had made a speech devoted to the sole and express purpose of running America down when, in fact, my theme was that the United States is a great and successful nation, capable of extraordinary achievements, which, however, is falling short of its capacity and promise," he said.

Cernan's Parents Disappointed By Agena Failure

BELLWOOD, Ill. (AP) - The parents of astronaut Eugene A. Cernan - "all keyed up" for their son's scheduled rocket takeoff and walk in space - suffered a "big letdown" Thursday when the Gemini 9 launching was delayed.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cernan were following developments on television in their home with 18 relatives and friends when formal announcement came that the shot had been delayed.

"Isn't it a shame," Mrs. Cernan said.

The Cernans then came to their front porch of their two-story five-room home in the suburb west of Chicago to talk with newsmen.

"It's been quite trying for us," Cernan said. "It's quite a big letdown for us. We were all keyed up for it."

"We were hoping and praying it would be a success," Mrs. Cernan chimed in.

But Cernan, a supervisor in the U.S. Naval Ordnance plant in Forest Park who had been given several days off from work to follow his son's adventure, said they planned to invite some friends in again when the shot is rescheduled.

Gogolak Signs With NFL Team

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pete Gogolak, the Hungarian soccer-style place kicker who played out his option with Buffalo in the American Football League, signed Tuesday with the New York Giants of the National Football League in a move that may bring war between the rival pro leagues.

The former Cornell kicker, who set records at Buffalo with

Randy Turpin Found Dead, Ex-Champ

LONDON (AP)—Randy Turpin, former world middleweight boxing champion, was found dead of gunshot wounds Tuesday at his home in Leamington Spa, about 150 miles north of London.

A police statement said: "Randolph Turpin was found dead suffering from wounds resulting from a shooting at his home in Russell Street, Leamington Spa, this afternoon."

"His 2-year-old daughter was admitted to Warneford Hospital, Leamington Spa, this afternoon suffering from shooting injuries."

Chief detective inspector Frederick Bunting told a news conference Tuesday night that police went to Turpin's house after a call from Warwick Hospital. He said they found Turpin dead. A revolver was in the room.

His daughter, Carmen, was taken to the hospital by her mother Gwen, who found the girl with gunshot wounds.

Police continued their investigation. They promised another statement Wednesday morning. The Turpins had three other daughters, Charmaine, 4, Anne, 9, and Gwen, 11.

Dethroned Sugar Ray

The 37-year-old retired boxer won fame and fortune by dethroning Sugar Ray Robinson on a 15-round decision in London, July 10, 1951. It was a great upset. He lost the middleweight crown back to Robinson on a 10th-round technical knock-out 64 days later in New York.

Turpin, a one-time carnival fighter, earned close to $500,000 with his fists. But he finished up as a pro wrestler and a scrap yard man, a financial bankrupt.

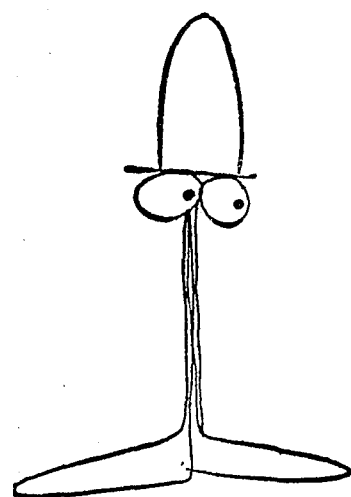

Alex Griffiths, a North of England promoter, said, "He told me he was going through a rough time. He was down in the dumps of late."

In recent years, Turpin has been helping his wife run a highway snack bar in his native Leamington Spa. It was frequented by truck drivers and workmen.

The cafe stands between two empty houses in an area due for demolition. Recently Turpin said he was worried about the impending demolition of these premises.

GAME POSTPONED AGAIN

Jacksonville High school's game against Jerseyville in the Quincy High Regional baseball tournament was postponed for the second straight day, Tuesday, because of wet grounds. The two teams will try again today, at 4 p.m.

28 field goals, refused to sign with the Bills in 1965, played out his option and become a free agent May 1.

Wellington Mara, president of the Giants, refused to disclose salary terms other than to emphasize no bonus was paid.

Mara said Gogolak had contacted the Giants two weeks ago through an agent, Fred Corcoran, and attorney Michael Mooney. Assured that Gogolak was free of any contract obligations, Mara signed the 24-year-old kicker for the Giants. He had not been drafted originally in the NFL.

Second In History
It was the second case in the history of the two pro leagues in which a man played out his option and then jumped to the other league. The first was Willard Deweall, an end with the Chicago Bears, who moved to the Houston Oilers in 1961.

The addition of Pete, who was born in Budapest and came to this country with his parents and brother, Charlie, gave the NFL both of the kicking Gogolak brothers. Charlie, 21, set records at Princeton as an All-American player and signed with the Washington Redskins of the NFL.

In Ithaca, at the Cornell University School of Hotel Management where he is working for a master's degree, Gogolak said: "This is a personal decision I have made. I've had very nice experiences in Buffalo and the people are very nice. I'm very happy that everything worked out. Quite a few teams contacted me. I felt that New York is best for my future and best in a long run."

"Very Satisfactory"
He declined to specify the financial terms but said the contract is "very, very satisfactory and it's for more than one year. I'm looking forward to it very much, I just like to do well."

In Buffalo, Joel Collier, the Bills' coach, said he was sorry that Gogolak did not "live up to his word" to former Buffalo coach Lou Saban that he would sign with the Bills late in the 1965 season. Saban since left Buffalo to become head coach at the University of Maryland.

Collier said Gogolak had agreed to financial terms offered by the Bills' owner Ralph Wilson. Collier said the player had been offered a salary increase.

"The only thing I can say from a coaching standpoint," Collier added, "is to wish him a lot of success in New York. We think he was a very good short and medium-range field goal kicker."

Collier said the "next course of action is in the hands of Al Davis (AFL commissioner) and the team owners." He did not elaborate.

Not A Surprise
In New York Davis said "no comment." But an AFL spokesman said, "The league office's stand is that it was not a surprise. We had reason to anticipate the provocative action of the New York Giants against the Buffalo Bills. We're interested in seeing if the commissioner's office of the other league will approve the contract."

Pete Rozelle, the NFL commissioner, was present when Mara made the announcement of Gogolak's signing.

The Gogolak story with all its implications overshadowed other developments at the NFL meeting here.

Rozelle said the league had decided not to set up any central scouting system as was discussed Monday. It was likely that the three scouting pools that were in operation last year would be reshuffled.

Representatives of the seven cities seeking the 16th franchise for the 1967 season arrived for Wednesday's presentations.

Plan No Decision
Rozelle reiterated that no decision would be made at this meeting. He refused to be tied down on any target date.

"Our only deadline is to put ourselves in the position of fielding a competitive team in 1967," said Rozelle.

He indicated the choice would be made before the college draft in late fall.

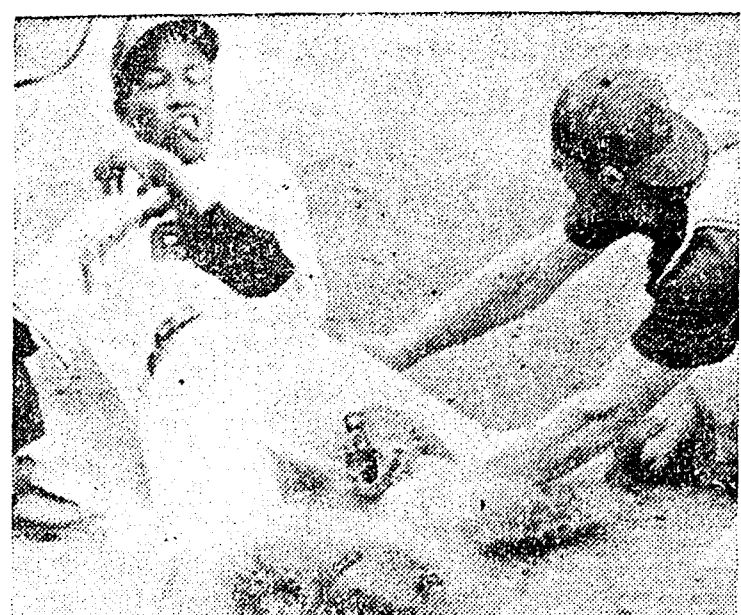

Each of the seven cities — Boston, Cincinnati, Houston, New Orleans, Phoenix, Portland, Ore., and Seattle — will be given 15 minutes to state its case. A question-and-answer period will follow. Stadium availability will be of prime importance.

IBSSS OLYMPICS HELD
The annual IBSSS senior Olympics were held Monday, with the eighth grade and juniors whipping the freshman and sophomores by 74% to 24%.

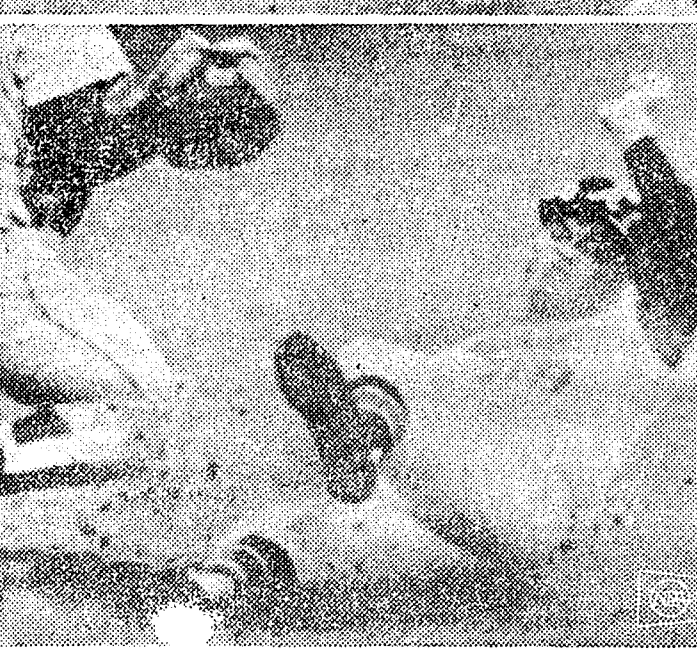

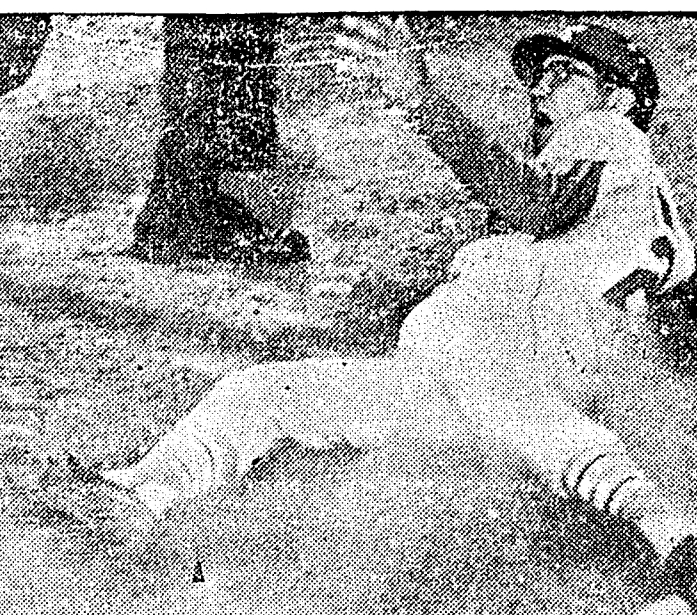

T. J. Cravens scored 20 points and Steve Baugh and Steve Brewster 18 each for the winners. Bill Mitchell chipped in with 14 points.

Pat Curtin with 13 points led the losers. Mike Stratton was second with four.

The meet had 27 participants.

Understanding Runs Preakness Field To Nine

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The field for the 91st running of the $150,000-added Preakness Saturday shaped up as nine Tuesday with trainer Hirsch Jacobs deciding his wife's silks will be carried by Understanding in the richest of the three races comprising the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds.

The veteran, red-haired trainer had been undecided between Exhibitionist, who showed little while running ninth in the Kentucky Derby, and Understanding, who closed from last place to finish fourth, beaten nine lengths, in last Saturday's Withers Mile at Aqueduct.

But Tuesday he made up his mind and went in search of a rider. Eddie Belmonte, under suspension, rode Exhibitionist in the Derby and Bobby Ussery was astride Understanding in the Withers. There were reports that John Giovanni, one of Pimlico's leading riders, was trying to get the mount.

Although he'll not start in the 1 3-16 mile Preakness, Exhibitionist will make the trip from New York Wednesday. Jacobs said the gray colt would go in the $25,000 — added Woodlawn Handicap, one mile on the grass Thursday.

Be Suspicious also will be a part of the Jacobs contingent with the $40,000 Black-Eyed Susan for 3-year-old fillies on Friday as her objective.

Kauai King Favored
As Kentucky Derby winner Kauai King remained the staunch favorite for the middle leg of the Triple Crown, three of his foes arrived on the scene. They were Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Advocate, runner-up in the Derby; Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Stupendous, beaten by less than two lengths while finishing fourth at Churchill Downs; and Robert Lehman's Rehabilitate, who wound up sixth in the Derby after a slow start.

With the exception of Exceedingly, who is quartered at near by Laurel, all of the probable field will be on hand by late Wednesday. In addition to the Jacobs representative, Mrs. Edward Lasker's Indulto, the Withers winner, is scheduled to arrive by van from New York.

With nine starters, the Preakness will gross $181,500, with $129,000 going to the winner, $30,000 to second, $15,000 to third and $7,500 to fourth.

Post time is 5:46 p.m., EDT, with television CBS scheduled for 5:30-6 p.m., EDT.

DRESSSEN REMAINS HOSPITALIZED
DETROIT (AP) — Charlie Dressen, 67-year-old manager of the Detroit Tigers, remained hospitalized and under observation Tuesday after suffering a possible heart attack.

Dressen, who suffered a heart attack in April 1965, entered Henry Ford Hospital Monday, complaining of pains in his chest and arm.

His condition was reported as satisfactory Tuesday, and a hospital spokesman said, "In fact, there's slight improvement in his condition."

Coach Bob Swift was put at the helm of the Tigers, third in the American League, until Dressen returns. Swift also filled in for Dressen during the illness last year.

Bases-Loaded Walks Tip Cardinals, 5-3

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Bases-loaded walks to Dick Groat and John Callison forced home two runs in the seventh inning

Tuesday night as the Philadelphia Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3.

Singles by Bob Uecker, pitcher Chris Short and Cookie Rojas loaded the bases, with one out. Nelson Briles then walked Groat, forcing in the run that gave the Phillies a 4-3 lead.

Joe Hoerner relieved Briles and walked Callison for another run before getting Harvey Kuenn to hit into a double play.

Short, who collected three singles, scattered eight St. Louis hits and won his fourth game against three defeats.

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Pavletich and Vada Pinson drove in two runs apiece as the Cincinnati Reds blanked the New York Mets 4-0 Tuesday night behind Jim Maloney's two-hitter.

Maloney held the Mets hitless over the last 7 2-3 innings and struck out eight while boosting his record to 3-0.

Pavletich doubled in a first-inning run and belted his third homer of the season in the third against New York starter Tug McGraw 1-4.

Pinson singled home a run in the fifth and delivered another in the seventh with a force-play grounder as the Reds breezed to their seventh victory in the last eight games.

Odd Triple Play May Be A First

INDIANA, Pa. (AP) — Indiana State University may have recorded a baseball first Monday in a game against St. Francis College.

Indiana's catcher made all three putouts in a triple play. That may have happened before. But he also had an error on the play.

Here's how it happened: With runners on first and third, the St. Francis batter struck out on a hit-and-run play. One out. Indiana catcher Rick Dahlgren threw to second baseman Jerry Dolges, whose relay to home caught the runner breaking from third. Two out. As the other runner continued going, Dahlgren attempted to throw him out at third, but over-threw into left field for an error. But the return throw from left-fielder Nick Sudzina got the third out at the plate.

Indiana went on to win the game 4-1 for its 13th consecutive victory.

Alvis' Home Run Carries Indians By Senators, 3-2

CLEVELAND (AP) — Max Alvis' two-run homer climaxed a three-run outburst in the fifth inning that carried Cleveland to a 3-2 victory over Washington Tuesday night.

Alvis' homer saved Sam McDowell from suffering his first defeat of the season after gaining four victories.

Trailing 2-0 and with only two hits off Diego Segui, the Indians got their sixth-inning rally started with a double by Dick Howser. Segui retired the next two batters, but Fred Whitfield singled for the first run.

After Whitfield went to second on a wild pitch, Alvis slammed his second homer of the season into the left field seats for a 3-2 lead.

Orioles Rally To Notch 8-6 Edge Over Bosox

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles rallied for four runs in the sixth inning, breaking a 5-5 tie on Luis Aparicio's two-run triple, and defeated the Boston Red Sox 8-6 Tuesday night.

Aparicio's hit came on the first pitch from Ken Sanders, who had relieved starter Jerry Stephenson with a 2-0 count on the batter.

The Orioles scored single runs before and after the tie-breaking triple on infield dribblers. In the first inning, Baltimore had scored three runs without a hit.

The first-inning rally included three walks, three stolen bases, three errors and a wild pitch by Stephenson.

Rico Petrocelli, who made two of the errors, socked a grand-slam homer in the fourth inning off Oriole reliever Gene Brabender, putting Boston ahead 5-4. A walk, a single by Mike Ryan and an error by shortstop Aparicio preceded Petrocelli's second grand slam of the season.

Oliva Clubs Two Homers As Twins Drop Chisox, 8-3

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Oliva slammed a pair of 400-foot home runs, driving in four runs, powering the Minnesota Twins to an 8-3 victory over Chicago Tuesday night.

Quincy Assistant Is New JHS Coach

Frank Long Selected By School Board

Frank Long, a native of Winchester and currently assistant varsity basketball coach at Quincy High school, was selected as the new varsity basketball coach at Jacksonville High School, at a meeting of the District 117 school board Tuesday night.

Long starred in basketball and football four years under Walt Rucks at Winchester, and was a standout cage player for Culver Stockton College in Canton, Missouri.

Long, who currently lives in Quincy, is married and the father of two children. He and his family plan to move to Jacksonville shortly after school is out.

The District 117 school board voted unanimously to hire Long in a regular meeting, following an executive session late Tuesday evening.

The new Crimson varsity coach received his BS in Physical Education in 1961, and received a MS from Northeast Missouri State Teachers College in 1965, in Administration.

His first coaching job was at Unity of Mendon High school, here he accumulated a 53-44 record in his four seasons there. He also coached track at Mendon. He served as assistant varsity basketball coach at Quincy High this past season. Under head coach Sherrill Hanks.

The 26-year-old Long made this comment when called early Wednesday morning: "I am very pleased and am certainly looking forward to the job, I am anxious to begin the job and meet the boys."

School board president William Deem commented, "We are very proud to have Mr. Long in our school system and feel he will do an excellent job. We found him to be a man with a goal and one who is striving to fulfill it."

The position at JHS opened when Rich Jones resigned this spring.

Dunham One-Hits Prin, IC Wins 4-1

ELSAH — Freshman Denny Dunham twirled a one-hitter and got good hitting support as Illinois College whipped Principia, 2-1, and kept its chances for a share of the Prairie College Conference title, here Tuesday afternoon.

Dunham, from Rockford, fanned eight and walked three men in his first start of the season, despite five throwing errors behind him.

Catcher Larry Herrick was the hitting star for the winners with three hits and three runs driven across. Phil Snowden collected a pair of hits, including a roundtripper, and scored three times.

IC is now 4-9 on the year, 2-2 in the PCC. Greenville leads the league with a final mark of 4-2. Principia is eliminated with a final 3-3 reading. The Blueboys will now have to take Rose Poly twice in a doubleheader here Thursday afternoon.

The winners scored once in the first when Snowden reached on an error and scored on Herrick's hit-and-run single through the right side. Another tally came in the third when Snowden walked with two away and came across on Herrick's double.

McClain weathered a shaky first inning and then breezed to his sixth victory against one loss. He retired the last 16 batters he faced.

Demeter connected off loser Fritz Peterson, 2-3, following a double by Norm Cash in the third. Willie Horton's three-run homer off reliever Dooly Workack in the eighth capped the Tigers scoring.

LAW OFF DISABLED LIST
PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates said Tuesday they are removing pitcher Vernon Law from the disabled list, effective Wednesday, and will start him against the Atlanta Braves Wednesday night.

Law had been on the disabled list since April 26 when he pulled a muscle in his right cage while warming up. He has a 1-0 record this season, the lone victory coming against the Braves.

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — We had a large pine tree in our yard cut down and someone tracked fresh rosin inside onto a wool carpet. How can I get rid of four big, ugly black marks?
I find sheets are never long enough to tuck under far enough at the foot of the bed to prevent their pulling loose and working out. When I buy new sheets I buy the double size for twin beds. I rip out the wide hem, cut a strip about 10 inches wide from one side and sew it to the end of the sheet where the hem was ripped out. I tell the seam so it is flat and hem
all the raw edges to have nice long sheets that tuck under and stay that way. —AUNT BEA

DEAR POLLY — My 8-year-old grandson was ill when visiting me and said he could not get an aspirin down when I tried to give it to him. He asked me to crush it and put it into a capsule, which I did and he took it without a murmur. I then filled some extras and labeled them so they were ready when needed. —MRS. R.

DEAR POLLY — My grandmother uses a walker and she often wants to take things from one room to another. She could not manage this and use the walker until I attached a bicycle basket to the front of the walker by clamping it over the frame and screwing the braces of the basket to the front edge of the walker. Now she can take what she wants from one place to another without any trouble. —DARRELL
